

MAKING RELATIONSHIPS WORK

A seminar by A. Parthasarathy in New York

MONDAY, OCTOBER 1 2018 | THE UNIVERSITY CLUB OF NEW YORK

“Stressbuster”

-The New Yorker magazine on A. Parthasarathy

People spend great time and effort to choose the ‘right partner’ official or domestic, but ignore the importance of ‘right relation’ with that person. Hence bitterness, animosity and divorce seem to be the order of the day in all relationships, be it marriage, work, kids.

It is not whom or what you meet in life that matters, but how you meet it.

Sponsorships

Premium table of 8: $6500
Full table of 8: $5000
Half table: $2500
Individual: $750

All except $150 per sponsor tax-deductible

Venue

The University Club of New York
College Hall
One West 54th Street
New York, NY 10019

Reservations

Ritika Jain: +1 732 485 7302
ritika@vedantausa.org
www.vedantausa.org

PROGRAM

5:30 pm: Reception & hors d'oeuvres
6:30 pm: Presentation followed by Q&A
8:00 pm: Served dinner

DRESS CODE

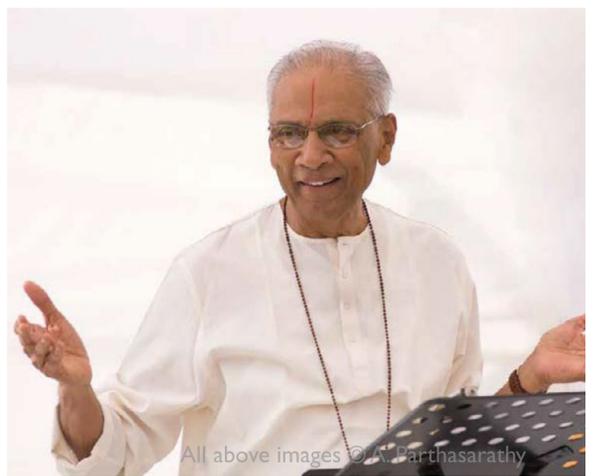

(as per club rules)

- Jacket and tie for gentlemen
- Suitable equivalent attire for women

A. PARTHASARATHY

The remarkable 91 year old Philosopher and Business Guru

- Six decades of study and research on Vedanta. Acclaimed as the world authority on ancient wisdom in modern life
- Author of eleven books including three best-sellers
- Has addressed the World Economic Forum, Young Presidents' Organization (YPO), Aspen Ideas Festival, Harvard, NASA, Oxford, Google and Microsoft
- Founder and Guru of the Vedanta Academy, India
- A living wisdom who at 91 follows a relentless worldwide lecture schedule. Works 365 days, no weekends or vacations and plays competitive cricket

Read more

Watch intro

MEDIA FEATURES

CNN

Forbes

Goop

New Yorker

TIME

“A man who adds new meaning to the phrase Business Guru”

- TIME magazine on A. Parthasarathy